Shabbat Shalom To the Royal Family,

Yehovah or Yahweh? Prove it!

Nehemiah Gordon has just announced that they have over 1000 manuscripts with the proper name of Yehovah with the vowel points in it. I know many of you have your own understanding of how to say the name based on someone who was not raised speaking Hebrew and who later learned the language. If your version of the name is correct then you should be able to find it over 1000 times in all kinds of manuscripts and be able to prove Nehemiah wrong. Unfortunately, for those who believe His name is Yahweh, Yahweh has not been found in any of these old manuscripts. Could it be possible that you have been pronouncing the Name wrong?

I wrote to Nehemia and told him I was going to post his findings in this week's News Letter and I asked him to explain one of the things he mentions in the audio. He wrote back right away to me and blessed me and you with the following.

Shalom Joe,

Good to hear from you. Yehovah be with you!

As of this morning (Jan 25, 2018), we have found 1,019 manuscripts with the vowels Yehovah (Sheva, Cholam, Kamatz). We also found two manuscripts containing the vowels Sheva, Cholam, Patach, also pronounced... Yehovah! One of the most exciting finds is the Name written as Yehovah in Babylonian Pointing. The vowel symbols used by most Jewish communities are known as Tiberian Pointing. Babylonian Pointing represents a separate dialect of Hebrew. For example, Moses is pronounced Mosheh in Tiberian Pointed Hebrew, but Moshah in Babylonian Pointed Hebrew! Tiberian Pointing has 7 vowels, whereas Babylonian Pointing only has 6. These two dialects of Hebrew were preserved by different Jewish communities, independently. So far we have found three manuscripts with the Name written as Yehovah (Sheva, Cholam, Kamatz) in Babylonian Pointing!

I'm attaching some photos you should feel free to use.

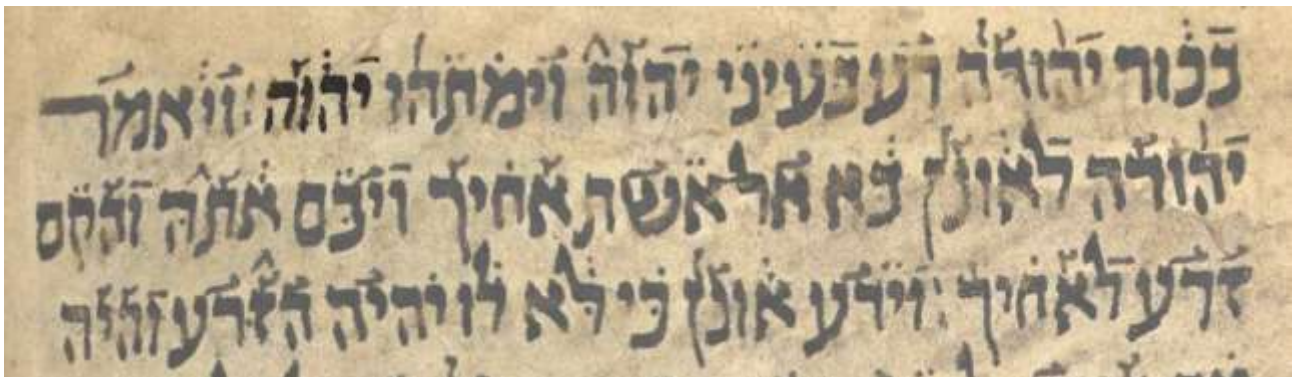

Cambridge University Library: Hosea 14:2 says "return to Yehovah your God" and Yehovah is written with Sheva, Cholam, Kamatz in Babylonian Pointing.

British Library, Or. 1467: Leviticus 4:1 Yehovah with Sheva, Cholam, Patach

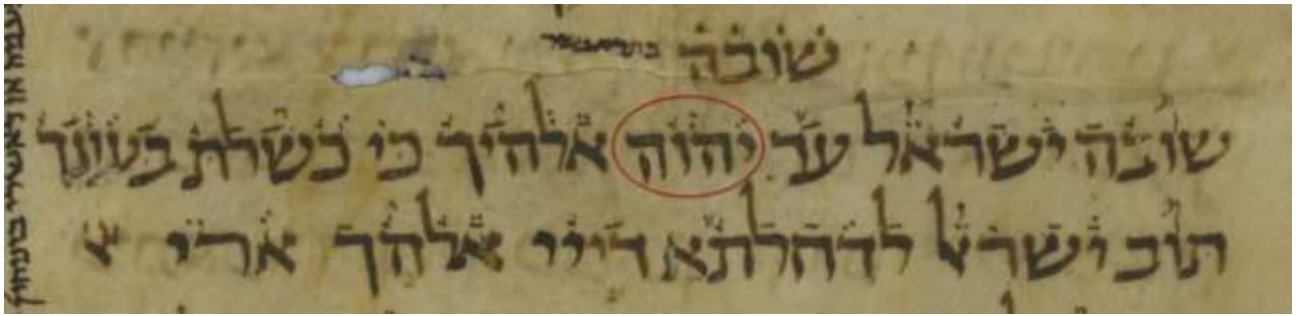

Aleppo Codex: Isaiah 30:1 Yehovah with Sheva, Cholam, Kamatz (one of only 7 known places in the Aleppo Codex)

Let me know if you have any questions or need any further assistance.

Please celebrate with Nehemiah at this new milestone of discovery that he has just announced and listen to this new episode of his discoveries.

In this special episode of Hebrew Voices, 1,000 Manuscripts with Yehovah, Nehemia Gordon celebrates the incredible milestone of finding God’s holy name with full vowels in over 1,000 Hebrew Bible manuscripts. Nehemia speaks with some of his team scouring Bible manuscripts in libraries around the world, as well as some of the people who have been key in spreading this vital information to Israel and the Nations. He also shares the exciting project he has planned next.

My thanks to all those who support my ministry and make it possible for me to do this important research! Thanks also to T-Bone, Dawn Irion, Chris Clark, Adam Kinghorn, and all the other volunteers scouring the libraries of the world looking for Yehovah’s holy name in Hebrew Bible manuscripts!

This is the first passage we found in the 1,000th Hebrew Bible manuscript we discovered with the full vowels of God’s holy name Yehovah. The passage is Deuteronomy 18:5 and says, “to serve the name of Yehovah”! This manuscript is from the Cairo Genizah and is now housed at the Bodleian Library at Oxford University.

The Name of Yehovah with the full vowels in a 10th century Masoretic manuscript of the Bible in the British Library, Or 9880. "... In every place where I cause My Name to be mentioned, I shall come to you and bless you." Shemoth 20:24
