

Ezer Kenegdo

Well, I am going to do something I have never done here before. Let me explain.

This week Eileen who helps me in many ways made another 7-minute video to share with you all. She called it Ezer Kenegdo. I did not know what it was about. So, as I edited it or proofed it before publishing, I found it to be very good. I had not heard these things before.

We published the video. Here it is. Just click on image to open video.

Now I thought it was interesting but I was not expecting the comment I got just hours after I posted it. This lady posted her comments and I accepted them and once I accepted them, they all disappeared. I have no idea where they went but they were not in the comments section.

I then left a comment hoping she would repost her comments. She DID!!

Let me now share them here. But first, when someone posts a URL I never share them. Many times, they are infected with bugs malware or lead you to porn sites. So, I automatically delete them. But this time as I read her comments, I felt she might be telling me something. So, I clicked on the URLs and began to watch the videos. I then shared them with Eileen who went to work on the next 7-minute video. Eileen was excited which caused me to pause and save them to watch.

Let me now share the comment Sonia wrote.

You see, if your woman is a TRUE child of YHWH then you, as her husband, have NOTHING to fear, but only benefits to gain because her entire being wants to bless her man!!! He should be REJOICING that he would have such a woman that would be sacrificed to YHWH and sacrificed and devoted to him for his benefit!!! Most importantly, a woman who is fully submitted to YHWH only wants what YHWH wants!!! She will be reading and studying scripture and praying to YHWH that she will ONLY do His will when it comes to her husband. She sacrifices herself to YHWH and subsequently sacrifices herself to her husband to build him up, to edify him, to help him become everything that is in alignment with the will of YHWH. Of course, she is NOT perfect and can still make mistakes, however, they are LESS LIKELY if she is fully submitted and obedient to YHWH and determined to only do the will of YHWH as benefit for her husband and not to overstep her boundary. Also, if she has made a mistake, a husband who is fully submitted and obedient to YHWH, also reading and studying scripture would probably be able to spot an error because when you study the TRUTH so well that you know it intimately, it is far easier to spot an error.

This is probably the most important part. If both the wife and her husband are studying Scripture and praying, are FULLY OBEDIENT and SUBMITTED to YHWH and seeking to do HIS will, if both of them have COMPLETELY SACRIFICED themselves and have only the interests of the OTHER PERSON at heart and are mutually submitted to each other, then it is almost guaranteed that they will have as close to the ORIGINAL INTENDED relationship that YHWH wanted for Adam and Eve (and ultimately us all). Can you not see that it would be the most AMAZING relationship and would be literally be “heaven on earth”. However, it is a COMPLETE SACRIFICE OF SELF AND SELF INTERESTS in light of the other person!!! This is VERY difficult to do because EGO/SELF raises its ugly head ALL the time!!! It is hard enough when you are both trying to do the same thing, but it is even harder if the other person is NOT doing the same thing and you are the only one sacrificing!!!

The steps:

- 1. Reading scripture, praying, fully obedient and submitted to YHWH – complete sacrifice of self*

2. Mutual submission to the other person and seeking only the OTHER PERSONS best interests – complete sacrifice of self

Listening to Skip on “The role of the ‘ezer”

- Greek view of marriage – it is about ME, what I can get out of it.
- Hebrew view of marriage – it is about US

We have fractured marriages because we are running around being Greek. Whatever I feel, my individual choices, etc.

The perfect marriage: husband sacrifices everything that he is for her and she gives everything she is for him. That is how it was designed to be.

The redeemed marriage is very difficult to do (because it goes against the norm). You cannot do it on your own – BOTH people need to be in agreement that this is a redeemed marriage in spite of the culture around them.

Continuing to listen to Skip he asked and answered the question, “What is love?”

“Love is benevolence towards another at cost to myself. Love is not about how I feel. It is about making a choice to be benevolent toward someone else at a cost to myself over a long, long period of time. it is a commitment to fidelity no matter what the expense.”

Men, if you're married, I hope that you have a wonderful, YHWH fearing wife. For men that are not married, do NOT chose your spouse on looks. These fade as spoken about in Proverbs 31. Choose your wife based on her commitment, love, faithfulness and obedience to YHWH. Will she be a good 'ezer kenegdo?

Shalom Sonia

This was the second part of my comment.

I have one more additional comment. Men are afraid that their 'ezer kenegdo wants to tell them what to do. That is FAR from the truth. An 'ezer kenegdo who is truly of YHWH will be ACTING like YHWH. She may or may not have the right to lead but either way instead SACRIFICES herself to bless her husband!!! In the same vein how YHWH sent Yahusha who had the right to lead, but instead became the servant of many, the 'ezer kenegdo is a servant to her husband. She does not want to rule over her husband, she wants him to make his own choices and wants them to be EQUAL PARTNERS in the relationship!!! Yoked together as ONE to do the will of YHWH!!!

So, question, does YHWH TELL us what to do all the time? NO!!! Actually, more often than not He tells us what NOT to do!!! You see, when we are doing things in alignment with His will, the things that are GOOD, He blesses us and we prosper.

However, when we are doing things that are against what He wants, then he chastises us, he punishes us and we do NOT get the blessing.

In the same vein, an 'ezer kenegdo following YHWH wants her man to experience freedom of CHOICE!!! She does not want him to feel trapped, she wants him to enjoy that freedom!!! She wants him to CHOOSE to follow the will of YHWH and she also wants him to CHOOSE to baraq to her. The tighter he cleaves to her, the more harmonious their relationship....it also makes her feel loved which is what she needs and craves!!! If he is following the will of YHWH she is blessing him and supporting him to the very best of her ability. However, if he goes against what YHWH wants, she will go against him, the blessing and support ceases.

Of course, he is not going to like her being against him and it will cause disharmony in the relationship, however, this is restored when he is walking in the will of YHWH because she again turns back to him and blesses him.

I will also point out that she must be constantly on her guard to be reading and studying Scripture and praying to YHWH because she must at all times be wanting to bless her husband for his well-being and to bring him closer to YHWH and not use anything at all for herself.

Just an aside, this teaching is absolutely spot on 100% SCRIPTURALLY correct. When I read GA and saw the videos I was blown away because it put into words things that I could not express myself but KNEW INSTINCTIVELY!!! You see Skip Moen is right, the role of the 'ezer kenegdo is absolutely inbuilt into a woman. Even women who are NOT followers of YHWH still try to look after their husbands to the best of their ability. Working in a hospital, I see many elderly patients and the following pattern occurs all the time. What i have noticed is that men who have wives are well cared for and tend to live longer and live WELL.

Men who do not have wives are not well cared for and are crumbling. This is also reflected in the fact that statistics prove that men who have wives live longer than men who are unmarried. Women were built by YHWH for the well-being of men and that is a fact!!!

Men are afraid that women will change them. However, what they fail to see is that BOTH men and women NEED to change and that is a fact!!! YHWH wants BOTH husband and wife to change for HIM!!! We will have NO CHOICE in this if we want to be faithful to Him. It is a BIG change and it will be a BIG struggle because the flesh wants what the flesh wants. However, YHWH wants my OBEDIENCE and for me to SACRIFICE myself to Him!!! He wants ALL my hopes, my dreams, my clothing, my possessions (which are really His anyway), my heart, my mind, my soul, my very life. He does not want me to hold back anything from Him. He wants me to sacrifice MYSELF completely both to HIM and to my spouse.....in the same vein, He wants my spouse to sacrifice themselves. In addition, in marriage it will be hard because both of parties have grown up with a GREEK mindset about marriage, but BOTH need to change that to the mindset of YHWH. The closer we get to the mind and will of YHWH, the more we obey what YHWH wants, the closer the two will be to each other and the more BLESSED and AMAZING their marriage will be. It will literally be a slice of heaven on earth. It will only be when our flesh raises up that we will have problems and because we are not perfect, this WILL happen, however, the closer we get to YHWH, the more we sacrifice to Him and to each other, the closer we will be to the garden of Eden.

In addition, I agree brother Joe. Other URL's could lead to people falling away if it leads people from the truth of the Word. People are fallible and we need to be following YHWH and His word.

You can keep or delete this as you wish. I found this video by the same author to be invaluable in my understanding in the difference between the Greek and Hebrew worldview. Just click on image to open video.

SKIP MOEN

This really helped my understanding of the Scriptures when I was able to view them through a Hebraic lens rather than my "Greek" upbringing of Western culture. It was an "ah ha" moment, just like when I understood the role of the Ezer kenegdo.

I have not yet watched them all. I have never taken one person I do not know and allowed their comments to be the Newsletters main subject. So let me know if this was a risk I have taken with dividends or a blunder on my part, in the comments below.

I do know this. There are many men out there who have screwed up. Who are married, and yet feel totally alone, because they do not have their wives support in anything they do. Those same wives, will never forgive their husband when he does screw up. They use it as sledge hammer over his head for the rest of his life, justifying why she does not give him her full support or love. It is called husband abuse and neglect. And as the husband retreats further into his own world or away from his wife, she wonders why their marriage sucks. It is my hope that this series will help you all. Women...remember the parable about the unforgiving servant and stop being that person, that wife who will not forgive her husband.

Both persons in a marriage do things to the other side. Both persons have got to learn to forgive AND FORGET. STOP BRINGING IT UP with each new argument.

This is a 5-part video series. Here they are. Just click on the links to watch online.
